Tickets are still available for this production which is staged in a semi-arena theater with a seating capacity of 160 for each performance. A limited number of tickets are available for these final performances in the Student Association business office. Tickets will also be sold at the door.

Council Sets WUS Drive for January

By SHIRLEY CLAR

World University Service will not be allowed to conduct its fund-raising drive next semester due to ASSSC policy and action taken at Wednesday's Student Council meeting. The WUS drive, originally scheduled for this semester, has not yet been undertaken due to administration difficulties within the group.

The action is based on a policy that two major fund-raising drives may not be held in the same semester. Hornet Holiday and its corresponding drive for the Student Loan Fund has been scheduled for the spring semester.

John Krier, ASSSC business manager, explained that this policy has been followed in order to protect the administration, faculty, and student body from constant appeals and solicitations for funds.

Betty Fry, coordinator of world affairs, explained that due to lack of communication between the head of the drive, Jerry Robbins, and his committee members, plans for a successful drive could not be made. She stated that the commmittee felt that if they were allowed to conduct the drive in the spring more money could be raised.

Must Be Fall Semester

Miss Fry pointed out that if the drive must be conducted this semester it would be scheduled for the end of January while if they were allowed to conduct it next semester it would be conducted during the middle of February.

that this would be a difference

The coordinator emphasized of only a few weeks in time but would probably make a great deal of difference in the amount of money collected.

Willis Supports SLFD

Dave Willis, ex-offico council member, reminded the council that the Student Loan Fund Drive is of great importance to the Sacramento State College students. He stated that the fund is greatly in need of all possible funds and that the conducting of the WUS drive would undoubtedly cut down the returns for this drive.

Before the vote, Jim Downton, ASSSC president, expressed the hope that the WUS would be able to organize a profitable drive this semester as SSC has

Master of ceremonies, Ed Keefer, will join Julie Van de Vort in entertaining dance guests during this semi-formal affair.

Gunn Heads Foundation

Dr. Thomas I. Gunn, newly appointed manager of the Sacramento State Foundation and the Hornet Foundation, states that he has felt the influence of a dynamic, growing college since his arrival on campus.

A former assistant professor of agricultural economics at Washington State College, Gunn assumed his new position in November. The SSC Foundation was established in 1951 to advance the welfare of the college and promote its educational and research purchases. The Hornet Foundation, formed the same year, operates food services and the Bookstore.

Gunn says he has long been interested in areas of business management and administration of higher education, and enjoys working with the faculty and doing research work. At Washington State he taught courses in marketing and agricultural business management and research with the Institute of Agricultural Science.

A graduate of Brigham Young University in 1951, Gunn completed his M.S. degree at Utah State in 1953 and in 1955 was awarded his Ph.D. at Cornell.

Gunn, his wife Joan, and their three children, Jeffery, 5, Linda Sue, 3, and Rebecca Ann, 6 weeks, live at 3128 Hempstead Drive in Arden Manor.

'TIS THE SEASON TO BE JOLLY

If you have been reading this column—and I hope you have; I mean I genuinely and sincerely hope so; I mean it does not profit me one farthing whether you read this column or not; I mean I am paid every week by the makers of Marlboro and my stipend is not altered in any particular by the number of people who read or fail to read this column—an act of generosity totally typical, you would say, if you knew the makers of Marlboro as I know the makers of Marlboro; I mean here are tobacconists gray at the temples and full of honors who approach their art as ingenuously, as eagerly, as trustingly as the youngest and most innocent of practitioners; I mean the purpose of the Marlboro makers is simply to put the best of all possible filters behind the best of all possible tobaccos and then go, head high, into the market place with their product, confident that the inborn sense of right and wrong, of good and bad, of shoddy and meritorious, which is the birthright of every American, will result in a modest return to themselves for their long hours and dedicated labors—not, let me hasten to add, that money is of prime consideration to the makers of Marlboro; all these simple men require is plain, nourishing food, plenty of Marlboros, and the knowledge they have scattered a bit of sunshine into the lives of smokers everywhere; if, I say, you have been reading this column, you may remember that last week we started a discussion of what to give our friends for Christmas.

We agreed, of course, to give cartons of Marlboro to everyone we know or would like to know. Today let us look into some other welcome gifts.

Do you know someone who is interested in American history? If so, he will surely appreciate a statuette of Millard Fillmore with a clock in the stomach. (Mr. Fillmore, incidentally, was the only American president with a clock in his stomach. James K. Polk had a stemwinder in his head and William Henry Harrison chimed the quarter-hour, but only Mr. Fillmore, of all our chief executives, had a clock in his stomach. Franklin Pierce had a sweep second hand and Zachary Taylor had seventeen jewels and Martin Van Buren ticked, but, I repeat, Mr. Fillmore, and Mr. Fillmore alone, had a clock in his stomach. Some say that Mr. Fillmore was also the first president with power steering, but most historians assign this distinction to Chester A. Arthur. However, it has been established beyond a doubt that Mr. Fillmore was the first president with central heating. No wonder they called him Old Hickory!)

But I digress. To get back to welcome and unusual Christmas gifts, here's one that's sure to please—a gift certificate from the American Chiropractic Society. Accompanying each certificate is this fetching little poem:

Merry Christmas, Happy New Year,
Joyous sacro-iliac!
May your spine forever shine,
Blessings on your aching back.
May your lumbar ne'er grow number,
May your backbone ne'er dislodge,
May your caudal never dawdle,
Joyeux Noel! Heureux massage!

'Two, Four, Six, Eight-We Don't Want to Integrate'

Little Rock, U.S.A.: Materials for Analysis, Selected and Edited by Wilson Record (SSC) and Jane Cassels Record. Chandler Publishing Co., San Francisco. 338 pp. $2.25.

By PHIL ISENBERG

No one pays much attention to the harmless college yell, "Two, Four, Six, Eight, Who do we appreciate?" But substitute for a playing field the public schools, have as opposing teams the state legislature and the national government — then the chant of New Orleans teenagers "Two, Four, Six, Eight, We don't want to integrate," becomes a yell different in kind from its athletic counterpart.

Public school integration in Little Rock is three years distant from New Orleans. Yet the violence exhibited these past weeks in Louisiana finds its roots in Little Rock. For that reason documentation of such an event is especially valuable.

The Records' paperback is designed for use in introductory college courses in English, social science and sociology. It is a selection of letters, news reports, court decisions and magazine articles that give background to the Little Rock affair, a chronology of the events, and a variety of views on its significance. The format includes instruction on footnoting, bibliographical material and guides to writing a research project. For the student who has no other source the Records' have compiled an impressive variety of facts and opinions.

Scholarly Purpose Has Limits

The scholastic purpose of the book severely limits continuity and ease of transition between selections. The background of Little Rock is the entire story of America's racial problem, and it is too much to demand that any author place it in a proper historical perspective, only three years after the event itself. The value of the book's background is that it condenses, and makes understandable, complex legal arguments and cases. It further provides a more than adequate history of the groups that formed to meet the problem of integration, and a brief review of their functions and leadership.

C. WILSON RECORD
Publishes Book

It is in the material describing the actual school integration, and the resultant violence, that the book comes into its own. The force of Reliman Morin's report, Black Monday, for which he received a Pulitzer Prize, speaks for itself. Likewise the interviews with students attending Central High School provides fascinating reading.

Ranging from Harry Golden's satirical article on Vertical Integration, the conservative position of Herbert Sass, and the penetrating analysis by Harry Ashmore, the latter half of this book reads like The Best of Atlantic.

Selected Material Is Diffuse

In many ways the diffusion of the selected material, both before and after the events at Central High, is a reflection of the problem of race relations itself. The legal aspect, the organized opposition of the NAACP and the White Citizens Council, the role of Governor Faubus in provoking the violence, President Eisenhower's weak leadership, the larger issue of racial distinctions—all these are touched upon. However, the attempt is to be suggestive rather than definitive. The result is excellent.

The entire story of America's racial problem and its solution, like the Great American Novel, has yet to be written. But for information on a significant focal point of that history the Records' book provides a good start in the right direction.

Cuban Student

Mixed With Revolutionists

By JOHN ENDSLEY

"The future relations of South America, the U.S. and Cuba depends on the U.S." states Eliezar Risco, Cuban junior at Sacramento State College.

Risco, a U.S. resident for two years, left Cuba during the last days of Batista's government. A schoolmate of Fidel Castro's youngest sister, he graduated from the Instituto de Segunda Ensenanza in Santiago.

"Sixty per cent of the people I knew from the ages of 15 to 35 were members of the resistance movement," Risco said. Risco was a member of the Three A movement, a group that printed and distributed anti-Batista pamphlets. Discovery would have meant death. A close acquaintance of his was shot after assassinating a Batista general.

Pro-Castro Friend Shot

Another friend, Frank Pais, organizer and treasurer of the Castro movement in Oriente Province was shot while being taken to prison. A 13-year-old witness questioned by Risco

ELIEZAR RISCO
Cuban Student

after the shooting claimed one of his captors addressed Pais; "They say you are Frank Pais. Now they can say you were Frank Pais." He drew his pistol and shot him.

"It was an everyday occurrence to find bodies hung from trees and lying in the streets." Signs calling them traitors were occasionally pinned on them, or a harmless powder bomb was placed in their hands to give the impression that they were shot while attempting sabotage. Twenty thousand noncombatant rebels were killed during the six year reign of Batista.

"There were no means of legal action against Batista. The only solution was force." Risco, a pacifist, participated because he knew it was the only way possible. "There was no special bravery involved. It was just something that had to be done."

Common Cuba Will Rise

"The next 50 years will witness the redemption of the common man in Cuba." Risco believes South America and Cuba are a mixture of overdeveloped urban centers and underdeveloped rural areas. "Today, the underdeveloped masses, aided by the liberals in the urban areas are in unrest."

"There isn't any definite pattern or philosophy to guide the leaders in Cuba today. Trial and error, seeking the institutions that will fit with the temper and environment of a different people is necessary." Risco believes it is a matter of experimentation to find the best form of government and living standards.

majority of Tuesday's talk to that subject.

Haupert will illustrate his discussion with slides taken in Israel. Part of the hour-long seminar will be devoted to a question and answer period.

In this week's seminar Dr. Thomas Williams, associate professor of anthropology at SSC, discussed his recent sabbatical study in North Borneo.

Williams and his wife spent more than a year living with the Dusun, a tribe of head-hunters who inhabit the mountain area of North Borneo.

The primary purpose of the research, Williams said, was to observe the relationship between childhood events and adult behavior in primitive societies. Williams equated the study to the using of a mirror to gain more knowledge regarding our own culture.

No Yearbook Unless—

By KAY MASTERS
Editor, The Statesman

There will be no yearbook this year unless we get some cooperation from the student body. It is discouraging to see little support given to a publication put out solely for the benefit of the students.

Out of seven hundred seniors less than two hundred fifty have had pictures taken for the annual. This poor showing will result in a small and unimpressive senior section. Final pictures of seniors will be taken in 109 Douglass Hall on December 13 and 14.

Organizations have not responded to appointments and deadlines. Very often this causes the annual to be printed late and it cannot be given to the students until late in the spring semester. Immediate response is requested to all Statesman letters.

Students are waiting as long as possible before buying the annual. This will result in an increase in sales price effective early next year.

This year's Statesman has much to offer. With the help of you, the student body, it will be a rewarding and worthwhile book. Without your cooperation there will be no book at all.

Our generals and admirals seem to take the position that we've never been stronger, and that if we just had some more, it probably wouldn't be enough anyway. —Fletcher Knebel

from the bench

By Roger Cooper

From all indications, the basketball future at SSC this year should be very favorable. Under the direction of Coach Ev Shelton, who is in his second year at the helm of the Hornets, this year's squad is blessed with an abundance of talent that was not present on past SSC teams.

Probably the greatest asset of this year's team is the depth at all positions.' Whereas in the past, the Hornets have had to depend on seven or eight players to carry the entire load, this season Shelton can substitute about twelve men without hurting the team's performance. The most bench strength is to be found at the guard positions. At present, returnees Ben Brenning and Bill Baker appear to have the inside track for the two posts. However, there are several players who are pressing these two for the starting berths. Rich Breves, Jim Greene, Les Kuhnz and Jim Miklich have all shown well in practice and any one of these four could crack the starting lineup at any time. Kuhnz has looked particularly strong of late and will undoubtedly see a lot of action on the Hornets' four-game trip south this weekend.

John Dille and Bill Whitaker are two welcome newcomers to the cage squad this year and both will play key roles in the team's success. Dille is a talented forward who transferred from Bakersfield J.C. He drives well and has very effective jump and set shots. The Hornets will be depending on him for much of their scoring punch this year.

Whitaker, an all-conference selection last season at American River J.C., is the starting center for the Hornets. He played two fine games against Long Beach State and College of the Pacific, and his rebounding strength is proving very valuable to the Hornets.

Ron Rohrer is back from last year's team and appears to be much improved. Along with Dille and Whitaker, Rohrer is one of the starters in the Hornets' formidable front line.

* * * * *

It was announced recently by Far Western Conference officials that SSC has been awarded the undisputed baseball championship for the 1960 season. The question as to who should be league champion was left in the air last year when Humboldt State and San Francisco State were unable to complete their schedules. These two schools had two games rained out and these contests were not made up. At the season's end, SSC had a 7-3 record in conference play, SFSC was 6-2 and HSC had compiled a 4-2 mark.

The Hornets were awarded the championship under a FWC ruling which states that a team must complete its entire schedule to be eligible for the title.

This ruling gave the Hornets their seventh straight FWC title. SSC, however, was forced to share the title in 1954 and 1956.

New Head Grid Coach Has Broad Experience

Ray Clemons' recent promotion to the head coach's post of the Sacramento State College football squad brings to that position a man of widespread playing and coach experience.

A graduate of Fremont High School in Oakland and St. Mary's College, Clemons was signed to the line coaching duties for SSC off the Sacramento City College squad, where his team brought SCC its first Big Eight Conference title in 30 years in 1958. He spent four years as head mentor at SCC.

Clemons teamed with such gridiron immortals as Doc Blanchard, Glenn Davis and Buddy Young as a guard on the 1947 All-College team which defeated the Chicago Bears and their quarterback Sid Luckman by a 16-0 count.

After playing for the Green Bay Packers as a defensive wingback during the 1947 season, Clemons was signed as head coach and athletic director at Christian Brothers High School in Sacramento. During his eight year tenure there, Clemons was instrumental in the establishment of the old Northern Interstate Conference, in which his CBHS squads won the 1954 and 1955 titles.

Taking over Clemons' line coaching duties for the Hornets is Don Cumley, instructor in physical education here for the past two years. Cumley was a Rocky Mountain Conference All-Star tackle for three years while playing at Colorado State College in Greeley, Colorado.

He was also a standout track performer during his college career.

Cumley has had coaching experience at Earlham College of Indiana, Western State College at Gunnison, Colorado and at Paul River Junior High School. His contributions have covered football, track and wrestling. During graduate work at the University of Southern California, Cumley was a graduate assistant in swimming. This will be his first coaching assignment at Sacramento State.

Clemons was named to his new position and Cumley to replace him upon the resignation of Johnny Baker as head grid coach. Baker volunteered the move in order to devote full time to the strengthening of the entire athletic program at SSC. The action terminates a four year span in which Baker was hoad coach. Cal Boyes will remain as backfield coach.

Football is a game for strong people. Anyone who can sit for three hours on a cold seat, eating cold hot dogs and peanuts, can't be a weakling.

San Francisco Tourney Hosts Faria Gymnasts

Coach Irvin Faria takes his gymnastics squad to San Francisco tomorrow evening to compete in the San Francisco State College invitational tournament at 7 p.m. in the Gator gym.

Teams competing besides SSC are University of California at Berkeley, Stanford University, San Jose State College, Olympic Club, San Francisco YMCA. Making the trip for the Hornets are Curt Rebhan, Terry Dwyer, Earl Hobbs, George McFarland, Jerry Personius, Joe Scanavino, Don Johnson, Henry Nichel, Dick Wolfe, Ed Pittman and Jim Ebbets.

On November 26 the Green and Gold hosted the fourth annual Northern California Gymnastics Championships. Faria stated, "This meet was the most successful ever held at SSC. There were a total of 22 entries."

Competing in the SSC invitational were California, San Francisco State College, SSC, the Berkeley and Sacramento YMCAs, Arden Hills swimming and tennis club and Hiram Johnson High School.

Outstanding performances for the meet were turned in by JoAnn Hashamoto of Arden Hills who won the championship free exercise, trampoline and tumbling in the 11 year old girls group. Also performing was Becky Dali of Modesto who won the free exercise, tumbling and balance beam in the 14 and younger girls' age group.

In the college division Rebhan of SSC defended his State free exercise title and finished second in the tumbling. Tom Fashinell of University of California took first place in the trampoline and Ken Eastlack of SFSC took first in tumbling.

According to Faria, Saturday's encounter will be the first meet this year in which SSC will compete as a team. "The University of California is expected to win and probably has one of the strongest teams in the nation. They have the fastest rope climber in the nation. We should be fairly strong in the free exercise, parallel bar and high bar events."

Cage Team Heads South For Slate of Contests

Coach Ev Shelton and 12 of his Sacramento State College cagers left Wednesday for Southern California where they will take on four quintets.

Yesterday the Hornets were to play Orange State College in Fullerton. Tonight SSC will tangle with Chapman College in Orange while being entertained tomorrow night by Cal Poly of Pomona. The Hornets will conclude their southern sojourn Monday night at Biola College in La Mirada.

Traveling Squad

The traveling squad will include: Bill Baker, Ben Brenning, Rich Breves, John Dille, Jim Greene, John Karsten, Bob Knezevich, Les Kuhnz, Jim Miklich, Ron Rohrer, Bill Whitaker and George Williams.

Following the contests in the southland, SSC will return for a December 17 encounter with Riverside. The Hornets broke even in their season inaugurals last weekend clobbering Long Beach State 76-58 in the opener while bowing to College of the Pacific 69-59 the following evening.

Shelton commented, "We had an opportunity to scout Long Beach in their winning effort against Chico State College. So we knew their basic offense. The shoe was on the other foot Saturday night. Van Sweet, COP coach, scouted us in our win against LBSC, whereas it was their first game and we were limited in our knowledge of their personnel."

Stanley Hurts Hornets

He also stated, "We acted tired in the second half against COP with slow reactions. I was surprised they shut out Williams and Dille, because both are good shooters."

"There was nothing wrong with their forward Ken Stanley, he hit 12 out of 21 from the floor en route to his 32 point production, which is pretty good in any league."

"Our club is improved, but it still is inexperienced. And the inexperience showed up against COP."

WRA Will Host Badminton Meet

Women's Recreation Association will hold their annual Christmas progressive dinner on Wednesday. All members will meet in front of the gymnasium at 6:30.

Tickets may be purchased from Karen Meek, chairman of the affair, Carol Liden, Janet Bee and Nancy Fisher for $1. The dress is casual and gag presents will be exchanged. Members hosting various parts of the menu will be Judy Wilson, Karen Meek and Carol Liden.

Today Sacramento State College WRA members are acting as hostess to College of the Pacific and Chico State College in a badminton tournament. Each school will bring 3 sets of doubles and 2 persons for singles.

WRA final intramural basketball games were played last night. This ended the competition.

The WRA executive board is in process of revising the WRA and intramural constitution.

Reimert and Paulas defeated Jewell and Lee in WRA tennis doubles finals by the score 5-7, 8-6, 6-4. Jewell and Lee will play Monice and Fithian for the consolation championship.

Flag Football Leagues End

December 2 saw the end of the flag football league play as both league champions chalked up wins. The powerful Overlanders, Independent league champs, rolled up 260 points for a 21.7 average and won all twelve games. Defensively the Overlanders gave up 54 points, a 4.5 average.

The Overlanders, with Lew Marks scoring 106 and Andy Braio 90, finished a perfect season by downing Platos Pups 13-2 on November 15, the Engineers 19-0 on November 23, and the Wizers 34-0 last Friday. Second place Platos Pups was led by Dick Hatten with 44 points.

Other high scorers were Mike Stemler, Draper Hall—57, Nate Martin, Rams — 32, Dwight Breed, Wizers — 70, and Paul White, Bombers — 38.

Chi Sigma Rho took the Fraternity league title Friday by beating Delta Phi Omega 14-0. A pass from Dick Griffin to Jin Poe gave CSR a 6-0 halftime lead. A safety and a Griffin to Pat Fenwick pass for a TD ended the scoring.

Chi Sig compiled 122 points, 17.4 average and allowed 26 points, 3.7 average. Jim Poe led the Greek league in scoring with 40, followed by Dick Griffin, CSR, Don Determan, CSR, Ray Risely, Xi Theta Chi, and Darrel McRorie, DPO, all with 25 points, and Ed Runkle, Omega Chi Delta — 18.

Other games: Platos Pups 20-Wizers 13; Wizers 13 - Rams 12; Platos Pups 18 - Engineers 6; Draper Hall 20 - Bombers 6; DPO 7 - XTC 6.

Yesterday the Overlanders and Chi Sigma Rho played for the All-College Championship.

$500 Increase

Council also moved to increase the Academic Enrichment Fund to $1000. This is an additional $500 alloted from the general ASSSC fund. The move was made on a recommendation by the Academic Enrichment Committee so that they would be able to assume sponsorship of the foreign film festival.

Ted Morse, AEF chairman, explained that the foreign film festival has in the past been sponsored by the now defunct educational society. The program will feature classic, foreign and domestic films of international acclaim.

Many Veteran Forms Late

The Coordinator of Veteran's Affairs reports that many veterans have not yet signed November subsistence forms. No pay voucher will be submitted to the Veteran's Administration without an attendance verification.

Veterans registered as limited students must file a monthly certification of training form with the veterans office. Any veteran delinquent in signing his monthly certification should contact the veteran's coordinator at once.

Editor, The State Hornet

I have always been among the first to rail at the inadequacies of our students. After an incident which took place just the other day I'm a completely reformed character.

Returning briskly to my office after a vigorous coffee break I passed a group of students dawdling along the sidewalk proceeding in my direction. Another student walking across the lawn from the general direction of the dorms hailed his fellows by yelling, "Hey, where you cats headin'?"

Back went the laconic reply, "Ex libris." Note that the response waan't even in a tongue taught at SSC.

Onward and upward.
